Bibliography of Economic Reports on the Production and Marketing of Fruits and Vegetables, 1981-89. By Joan Pearrow and Nadine Lofton. Commodity Economics Division, Economic Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture. Bibliographies and Literature of Agriculture No. 102.

Abstract

This bibliography lists research publications on the economics of fruits and vegetables published from January 1, 1981, to June 1989. References cover various activities: (1) production, yield, and harvest, (2) storage, marketing, packing, and handling, (3) costs, returns, profits, and management, (4) prices, demand, supply, and utilization, (5) grades, standards, and consumers, (6) market structure, performance, and competition, (7) projections, forecast, and outlook, (8) shipments, transportation, and foreign trade, (9) processing, (10) statistics, (11) computer products, and (12) miscellaneous. References have been compiled from publications submitted by land-grant institutions and by services within the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

Keywords: Apples, berries, citrus, costs, forecasting, fruit, grades, handling, harvesting, marketing, melons, outlook, potatoes, prices, production, shipments, statistics, supply and demand, vegetables.

Preface

This bibliography lists research reports published between January 1981 and June 1989 on the economics and related areas of producing and marketing fruits and vegetables. It serves as a supplement to Bibliography on the Economics of Fruit and Vegetable Production and Marketing, 1965-76, ESCS-50, and Bibliography of Economic Reports on the Production and Marketing of Fruits and Vegetables, 1976-80, BLA-29. Included are references on costs, prices, grades, competition, projections, shipments, processing, statistics, computer products, and miscellaneous activities. The publications are listed alphabetically by author and referenced under 12 major headings. An author index with page number references comprises the last section of the compilation.

Bibliography references were compiled from reports submitted by land-grant institutions and other USDA agencies to the Economic Research Service.

Publications of the land-grant universities and colleges should be ordered from the issuing institutions. USDA publications should be ordered from the distribution office of the appropriate service. There is a charge for many reports and computer products listed. The appropriate issuing institution should be contacted for fee and availability. Publications that are out of print may be ordered from the National Agricultural Library or from the land-grant university or college libraries subject to institutional rules.

Reports you can use . . . from ERS

Situation and Outlook Commodity Reports give you the facts . . . and the forecasts!

These reports provide both current intelligence and historical data on national food and agricultural developments. They also forecast the effects of changing conditions and policies on domestic and international agriculture.

Who uses Situation and Outlook Commodity Reports? Farmers and trade associations, agri-industries and financial institutions, Federal, State, local, and foreign governments, news media, food service industries, and research and academic facilities all look to these reports as the most reliable source of up-to-date information.

These reports tell you what's affecting land values, production costs, farm finances, world trade, and energy for Aquaculture, Cotton and Wool, Dairy, Feed, Fruit and Tree Nuts, Livestock and Poultry, Oil Crops, Rice, Sugar and Sweetener, Tobacco, Vegetables and Specialties, and Wheat.

The cost is just $12 for a 1-year subscription per title. Or save by ordering a 2-year subscription for $23, or a 3-year subscription for $33. (A subscription to Livestock and Poultry Situation and Outlook report runs $17 for a 1-year subscription; $33 for a 2-year subscription; and $48 for a 3-year subscription.)
